Project Title: Animal Crossing New Leaf Website

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Animal_Crossing:_New_Leaf

Ideally, I would want to build this site with multiple pages as well as a navigation bar either along the left side or near the bottom (I know the bottom sounds counterintuitive, but I have a way that I think might work)

Possible outline:.

1. Intro: Explaining what Animal Crossing New Leaf even is, when the game was released, that it's a simulation game etc... the basic information about the game. Where it fits alongside other games in the franchise.
2. Story: The storyline of the game. How it starts and develops. Maybe I could have a spoiler section, that when you click on it, it reveals the surprising parts of the game.
3. Gameplay: More technical side of how the game is played (some ideas like multiplayer, touch screen interacting with display screen, etc). This might overlap into the "story" section.
4. Characters: The main characters the player interacts with in the game and some information about each one.
5. Development: History of the creation of the game. So, stuff like research, challenges, and the like.
6. Sources: Self explanatory. But it would be the wiki page, photography, etc. All the credits will be here. Probably a link directing to the official Animal Crossing website would be useful too.
